The Legacy of BROWN v. BOARD

OUTREACH OFFER (Initial Preview Broadcast: 5/04-8/04)

TITLE: With All Deliberate Speed: The Legacy of Brown v. Board
LENGTH: Program: 56 Minutes; Outreach/Current Issues Clip; 20 Minutes
FORMAT: Digital Betacam, 16:9 Widescreen Format
COMPLETION DATE: April 1, 2004
COMPANION WEBSITE: www.brownvboard.info
DESCRIPTION: Scholarly, Student and Teacher Interviews, Archival Footage

This innovative documentary film addresses the most poignant issues concerning race and education in recent American history. Beginning with an overview of the efforts to establish public education for African-Americans in the 1800s, and the struggle of the NAACP and the Legal Defense Fund to desegregate schools throughout the 1900s, the film then addresses the state of public education today via candid interviews with students, educators and scholars from racially and economically diverse high schools, colleges and universities.

OUTREACH TOOLKIT: Broadcast Program, Outreach Clip, Facilitator Guidelines

Packaged alongside "With All Deliberate Speed" in the Outreach Toolkit, this 20 minute clip focuses on the current issues concerning race and education. Candid discussion with students and teachers about such issues as the "achievement gap", tracking, affirmative action, social stereotypes, and economic issues provide a contemporary context for the legacy of Brown v. Board. Also included are facilitator guides developed with our partners, the National Conference for Community and Justice (NCCJ) and the Study Circles Resource Center. The Outreach Toolkit is a resource designed specially to assist public television outreach personnel, educators, and community organizations to create a national, community based dialog about race and education.
